- Český Krumlov is a medieval town located in the Bohemia region of the Czech Republic. It's also a UNESCO World Heritage site. The town is built around a windy river at the foot of a giant castle, like that animation at the beginning of every Disney Movie. The enormous Český Krumlov castle dates back to the 1200's, although this crooked bend in the river has been populated for millennia – records show people living here as far back as the Stone Age. As the town evolved through the centuries, it added modest town-upgrades like breweries and markets, all while experiencing peace and harmony.
- Head back to Prague for an overnight at the hotel
